Does Spain need a Bess energy system? Currently, Spain has 6.3GW of hydroelectric and 1GW of thermal storage capacity installed. In fact, the non-BESS storage capacity in Spain is higher than in any other European country. As a result, the need for BESS to integrate renewable energy sources into the electricity system is less immediate than in the UK, for example. How many Bess projects are there in Spain? In March, UK companies Renewco and Atlantica announced the development of up to 2.2GW of BESS projects across Spain. Other projects in the pipeline primarily involve storage co-located with solar or wind generation. According to BloombergNEF, the total capacity currently in the BESS pipeline is around 3GW. Who are BW ESS & ibersun? 24 June, MADRID -- Global energy storage owner-operator BW ESS and Getxo-based energy storage developer Ibersun have signed a joint venture to develop, in its first phase, 2.2GW of utility-scale battery energy storage system (BESS) projects across Spain. What is the largest battery energy storage system in Spain? The report also claimed that the battery energy storage system (BESS) project is the largest presented in Spain to-date. It will be in the Cadiz town of Tarifa, in southern Spain. It will connect to the high-voltage grid of Spain via the Puerto de la Cruz 220kV node and will comprise BESS units with lithium iron phosphate (LFP) batteries. Why should Spain invest in a Bess fleet? In addition to stabilising the energy grid, the expansion of Spain's BESS fleet will also prevent energy from being wasted, when supply exceeds demand. The joint venture, targeting greenfield, four-hour duration assets, will progress an initial 2.2 GW pipeline of eight projects across Spain. Does Spain need government support for Bess? In Spain, significant growth has been seen in the BESS field over the last few years in the context of the National Integrated Energy and Climate Plan (PNIEC). However, there are still opportunities within the associated policies and regulations to unlock the necessary government support for these initiatives.
